

Pledges Survive First Initiation

Pledges of the eight service clubs on campus went through their initiations on "Hell Day," held last Friday, March 3.

Dressed in assorted types of costumes, the pledges were put through various paces in the patio of the student union at noon. Pledge masters issued orders, which had to be followed by the pledges, or further punishment was handed out.

Next big day on the Women's clubs calendar is the formal initiations, to be held Monday, March 8. Formal initiation for the pilots will be held at Cary's, on North Main in Santa Ana. Sisterhood of Spinsters will hold their formal initiation at the Chung King cafe in Anaheim. Las Gitanas will hold their formal initiation at the home of Ann Harding on North Freeman street, while the Meninas will hold their initiation dinner at Cary's.

Pledge Days have come and gone again. Pledges (apparently) enjoying the forced march through the student union are (L. to R.) Martha Snow (Las Gitanas), Danny Eidleon (Bachelors), Evelyn Blankenship (Las Gitanas), Dave Baker (Bachelors), Nayan McNeill (Spinsters), Jim Galbraith (Bachelors), Dolly Wagner (Spinsters), Ed Mulligan (Bachelors), and Carol Cruthers (Las Gitanas). Phi Theta Kappa Initiates Thirteen New Members Formal initiation for Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honor society, was held yesterday afternoon at three o'clock in the SAC library, announced Mabel G. Whiting, an advisor of the organization. Invitations were extended to thirteen students.

Selection of members is made from the Alpha Gamma Sigma of those with the highest grade point ratios, and whom the faculty also considers worthy of top honors.

Director Daniel C. McNaughton addressed the new members and their families. Following the initiation ceremonies, a tea was held.

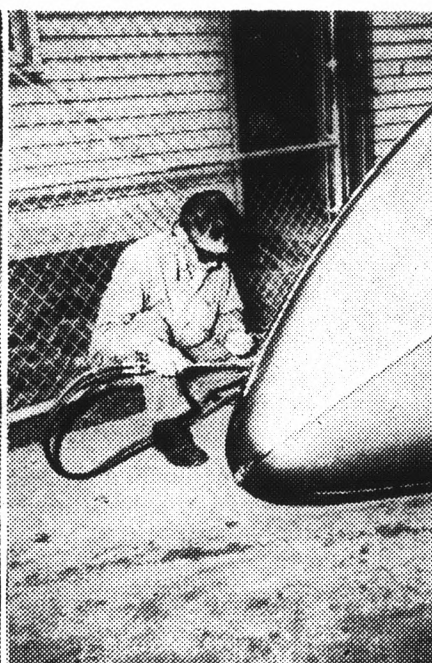

Chosen were: Stanley Graft, William Meyer, Hilda Johnson, Thomas Sharp, Viola Valles, Peggy Humphrey, Hayes Igoe, Vincent Maier, Keever Jankovich, Martha Rafn, Jack Craven, Francis Klewer, and Robert Levin.

Body and Fender Repair Class Begun On Campus Broadens Scope Of Automotive Courses At SAC

"Launching of the new body and fender repair class this semester has considerably broadened the scope of SAC's automotive course," Royce Cornett, who instructs the course, announced today. The class has as its purpose to give preliminary and pre-apprentice training in the fundamentals of body and fender work.

Students may achieve advanced apprentice standing upon completion of the two year automotive course, with a minimum of one semester in the body and fender repairing class. This terminal course offers specialization in either the body and fender trade, or auto mechanics.

Phases covered in the body and fender repairing class are analysis of damage, the actual metal bumping, finishing of the metal, and the process of matching the damaged area with the original finish.

Analysis of Damage
The first phase takes up theory and instructs in analyzing damage, and recognition of the various types of damage, direct and indirect. Important in this is ascertaining the direction from which the damage took place, in order to work the metal back to its original shape in the proper sequence. From analysis also, the student can determine the procedure he is to follow to repair the damage. He is taught how to recognize the component parts of the direct and indirect damage such as the ridges and "vee" channels.

Actual Metal Bumping
The second phase of the course teaches the actual metal bumping itself. In this the student must learn the operations of welding, leading, and shrinking the metal. Working the metal back to its original shape is done by the process of metal bumping.

Finishing and Matching
Metal and finishing is outlined next. This consists in effective use of the hand file and the sander to place the damaged panel back into finished form with all dents and indentations removed. The edges must be completely feathered out, and the damaged area made ready for spotting in or painting.

The final phase is the process of matching into the original finish. Spotting in on one area may be accomplished, or it may be necessary to paint the panel, or repaint the whole car.

The Automotive Apprenticeship Advisory Committee aids Santa Ana College in outlining the content of the course, and also in setting up training and industrial standards. This advisory committee, headed by chairman Carl Eltiste, and secretary Charles Bivens gives assistance to students in obtaining placement.

Tattlers Will Hear Guest Speaker

Mrs. Maurice Enderle, presenting a literary review, will be the guest speaker for the Tavern Tattlers when they meet this Wednesday at 7:30 in the Student Lounge, announced Miss Lota Blythe, advisor for the club.

Miss Blythe further announced that the evening will include the welcoming of new members and the discussion of plans for two forthcoming events: the annual spring field trip and a patio supper at the home of Mr. T. H. Glenn, head of the SAC English department. The evening is to be concluded with a refreshment period.

Ford Takes Over Drama Dept.; Replaces Flynn As Instructor

New dramatics instructor at SAC is C. L. Ford, recently arrived from Phoenix Union high school, Phoenix, Arizona, where he had been drama instructor and director of plays, for two and one half years.

His duties at SAC include director of the forthcoming drama presentation of "Dover Road" and the talent show, "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Graduate of Sul Ross State Teacher's College at Alpine, Texas, Ford has also had additional study

Froeschle Plays For Hop Tonight

The "Ship Ahoy Hop," sponsored by the SAC service clubs, will be held tonight from 9:00-12 midnight, in the Women's club building in Orange and will feature Bob Froeschle and his band.

No specific dress rules will govern the dance and everyone is invited to come as he wishes. Tickets are $1.20 per couple and are still on sale in the business office, G75.

"HMS Pinafore" To Be Presented At Talent Show

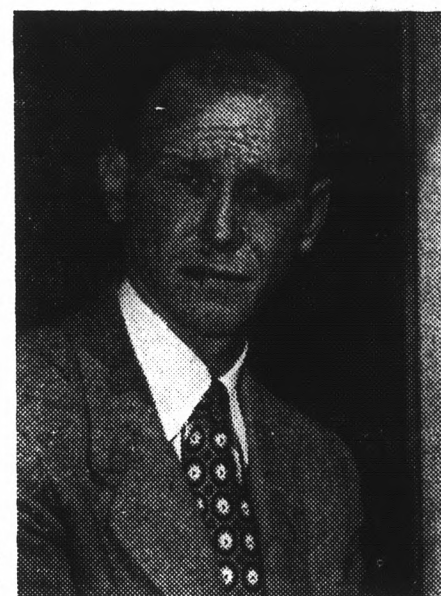

"H. M. S. Pinafore," the well known Gilbert and Sullivan comedy, will be presented by members of the SAC student body at the annual talent show, to be held April 20, at Willard Junior high school auditorium.

Sponsored By Sigma Phi
Sponsored by the Sigma Phi Sigma, "the show will be a show within a show," according to Roger Axworthy, leading actor in the play. The show takes place in a midwestern town, and is preparing to go on the road, when the news leaks out that a well-known Hollywood producer is producing the show. All the townspeople bring their native talent, and try to get a part in the Gilbert and Sullivan comedy.

In this manner, all types of talent are displayed, along with the regular production of "H. M. S. Pinafore."

Cast Assigned
Cast of the show will be Roger Axworthy as Admiral Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter; Russell Patterson, Captain Corcoran; Bengy Morales as Ralph Rackstraw; Frank Sekeris, Dick Deadeye; while George Willis will take the part of Bill Bobstay; June Herreck will play Josephine; Pat Flaherty as Cousin Hebe; and Marjorie Graves as Little Buttercup.

Director of the show will be C. L. Ford, with Janine Jemison as assistant director. Wendell Melton will be in charge of scenery and background.

C. L. FORD

at USC and Stanford. After completing three years in the Navy, he then attended the University of Iowa, where he majored in dramatics.

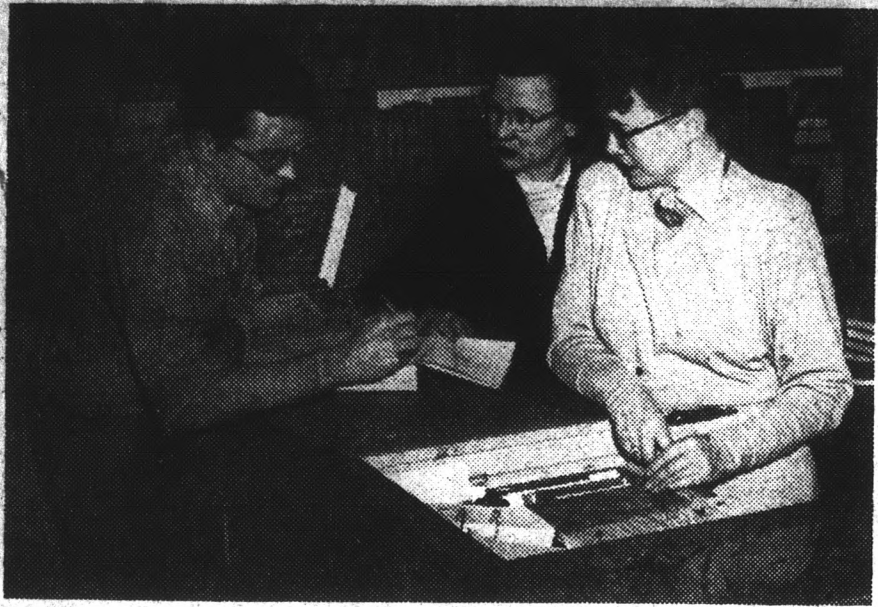

In addition to Phoenix Union high school, Ford has also taught drama and speech at high school in Alpine, Texas.

Attendance Is Topic of Deans

"Reasons for students dropping out of schools on all levels was discussed by the Southern California Association of Women Deans and Vice-Principals meeting at the Riverside Mission Inn last Saturday," stated Miss Agness Todd Miller, SAC Dean of Women, today.

A statewide investigation is being presently conducted to find the underlying reasons for the ever increasing number of pupils dropping from school, added Miss Miller.

Statistics at Santa Ana College indicate that the percentage of "drop outs" here, are much lower than at most of the schools in Southern California. Students going to work, ranks first at SAC as the reasons for many leaving college, while illness ranks second.

Library Nucleus Of College Life

Nucleus of the college academic life, (and of some of the social life also) the library, located in building Q, is presided over by Miss Ruth Bradley and Mrs. Florence Finley, aided by Gus Maier, art major who is serving as student assistant.

Miss Bradley, Head Librarian

Miss Ruth Bradley, head librarian, was born in Santa Ana, graduated from Santa Ana high school and college, and attended UCLA. After her graduation from UCLA she had experience in library work at Santa Ana high school. During the war years, Miss Bradley was with the Red Cross in hospital work. She spent over a year during the Okinawa campaign in a Honolulu hospital aiding in craft work, in loaning money to the wounded soldiers, and in looking for their friends. Miss Bradley liked Honolulu so much that she is planning to return there for a visit this summer.

Summers Spent in Graduate Work

Four summers of Miss Bradley's life have been spent in graduate work in library training at Columbia University in New York. "I don't know which I like best," Miss Bradley smiles, "books or people." According to Miss Bradley, the greatest requirement of a librarian is that he or she love both books and people so as to fit the right book with the right person. The student librarian must take a general college education, covering knowledge in all fields, and then specialize in library training.

Mrs. Finley, Assistant

Mrs. Finley, assistant librarian, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Monmouth College, near Chicago, Illinois. This summer she will receive her Masters degree in library science at USC. Her job of interviewing visiting artists for her college paper was a feature of Mrs. Finley's Monmouth College days that she best remembers. After meeting the artists at the train as a member of the welcoming committee, Mrs. Finley would ride with them to their hotels to get interviews. She remembers interviewing Ezio Pinza when he first came to America.

Next fall a library handbook, similar to the student handbook, will be offered students at the time of registration. The book, being compiled by Miss Bradley and Mrs. Finley and illustrated by Gene Schreff, SAC art student, will contain a history of the library and a map illustrating the various paths leading to building Q.

This year 356 volumes have been added to the shelves, bring the total number of books to 17,019. This number does not include the pamphlets or the information file.

Assembly Introduces Ex Board Members

For the purpose of publicizing the "Ship Ahoy" dance, to be held tonight in the Orange Woman's clubhouse, and to introduce the newly-elected student body executive board members, an assembly was presented by members of the student body at 10:30 a. m. this Wednesday.

A skit was given and Swami Carl Busdiecker, student body president, presented his "Crystal Ball Capers" with Elizabeth Elliott, student body secretary, as his assistant. In the spotlight with their musical "talent" were Jim Horner, Dave Borkenhagen, and Robert Axworthy.

A ukelele trio, made up of Jim Harrison, Ronald Birchard, and Phil Reily, presented the special lyrics of the "Ship Ahoy Hop" to the music of "Dark Town Strutters Ball."

Introducing

GEORGE AND CHLOE BARR

Always smilingly interested in everything that is going on, but happiest when they are enjoying things together, are George and Chloe Barr, one of SAC's nicest married couples.

On the afternoon that we were taking pictures for the El Don, Chloe was defending the honor of SAC in a Woman's Athletic Association tennis match and George had to have his taken alone. Anyway, in case you don't know, we will tell you that she has beautiful hair of a warm, richly glowing red-brown color (or it could be brown-red) and we will also tell you that her nickname is "Rusty".

George met Chloe in 1946 when he was stationed in San Francisco with the Marine Corps. Chloe was born in Taft, California, and graduated from Taft high school, but during the war she worked in San Francisco as a shipment clerk. It was during a Halloween dance that her sister, Hazel Hitson, introduced George to Chloe and after Chloe discovered that George likes to hunt and sail and George discovered that Chloe likes all sorts of sports, they finally got down to the business of discovering that they also liked each other—very much. They were married in August, 1948, and came here to Santa Ana College in 1949.

George is majoring in business administration and is a member of the Black Knights. He has a chance to practice what he learns in the Barr Lumber Company, when he isn't hard at work with his school books. Chloe is taking a physical education course and has plans toward becoming a physical education instructor.

She is president of the Woman's Athletic Association, a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California State Honorary Scholastic society, and a member of the Sisterhood of Spinners. They both plan to continue their studies at the University of Oregon following their graduation from SAC this June.

Wendell Melton, commissioner of assemblies, introduced Rolf Engen, associated student body vice-president, Harold Byrne, student body treasurer, and Hal Caldwell, commissioner of public relations.

Following the skit, Bud Johnson, commissioner of athletics, presented a trophy to members of the cross-country track team. The trophy was presented to the team for winning the California State cross country title. It was accepted by Harry Quackenbush on behalf of the team.

Natives of Peru and Puerto Rico Now Attending Santa Ana College

By JANE LINDEMUTH

Carlos Lizarraga, native of Peru, and the Senorita Carmen Lydia Zayas of Puerto Rico like the United States because by coming here they met each other. Carlos and Carmen, now Senor and Senora Lizarraga, entered SAC the first of February, Carlos to study agriculture and Carmen to major in physical education.

Carmen first came to the United States with her mother in the summer of 1948 to spend a vacation at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. While she was there she decided to enter the University of Tennessee to study languages and physical education. Carlos entered the Coburn Classical Institute in Maine to study English during the 1948 summer session. Carlos left Maine at the beginning of the fall semester to enter the University of Tennessee for the study of agricultural methods.

The first evening of the fall semester, after classes were over, Carmen and her roommate went to see a motion picture with the roommate's two new friends. One of them was Carlos. After that Carmen and Carlos saw quite a bit of each other. They were married in December of 1948.

They say that they came to Santa Ana College because "in addition to offering the courses that we want to take in a practical manner, Santa Ana College is a small school and we like that. In Tennessee there were 11,000 students and that was too many. After Carlos finishes his studies in agriculture here in the United States, the Lizarraga family plan to go to Peru where Carlos will have a farm and will be able to practice what he has learned about modern farming methods.

Y Clubs Will Hold Dinner Dance Wed.

Members of the campus YWC and YMCA will hold an informal potluck dinner and dance Wednesday evening, March 15, in the SAC cafeteria. A short business meeting will follow the dinner. After the business meeting members will dance.

Appearing above is Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, Santa Ana College director, who served as master of ceremonies at a meeting of vocational, trade, and industrial educators held in the SAC cafeteria Monday evening, March 6. Frank Bowman, President of the Santa Ana City School Board, presented the flag salute and The Reverend George J. Busdiecker, Santa Ana City School Board member, gave the invocation. Westley P. Smith, state director of vocational education spoke on "An Apprentice Program Minus Technical Training is but a Hollow Shell", and Sam Fick, Bureau of Trade and Industrial Education chief, discussed the future of pre-apprenticeship in California.

Purposes of WAA Are Made Known; Began When College Was Founded

By DEAN GAUTSCHY

Building strong bodies along with developing healthy minds and personalities is the main purpose of the Women's Athletic Association of Santa Ana College.

Dating back to the founding of Santa Ana College in the year 1915, the WAA has always been in the midst of college activities and hundreds of women have enjoyed participating in the association's team sports and social affairs. Membership remains open to any women attending SAC, but the WAA is strictly an after school activity and no college credits are given.

WAA Competes For Fun

The WAA has a reputation for not judging or praising outstanding team athletes, but giving every team member, no matter how good or bad they may be, an equal chance. Unlike men's athletics, where competition is great, and the participants are all aiming for some special honor, WAA members compete for fun only.

At the end of the year when all WAA sports have concluded, a large party is held for all the organization's members. Letters, the only awards given by the WAA, are awarded at this time. The only requirements for earning a letter is the participation in two team and one individual sport a year.

This year, Miss Isabelle Rellstab, WAA athletic instructor for the past four years, has had wholehearted support in the various teams and individual sports. Earlier in the year the WAA has participated in basketball and currently the WAA is concerned with tennis and volleyball teams. Archery and baseball season will start in the near future to round out a full year of athletic activity for the WAA.

Thirty-six Women Participate

Over 36 women are members of the WAA this semester at SAC and regular officers are elected each semester. Though not in a regular conference, the women athletes compete with near-by colleges.

According to Miss Rellstab, the WAA netters composed of 11 members, have an outstanding team this semester. In May, the team is scheduled to play in the Southern California Tennis Tournament at Griffith Park in Los Angeles. The association's volleyball team has played no scheduled games, but a full season is mapped out for the team.

Sportsmanship and Friendship

When playing other schools the WAA displays keen sportsmanship and after each competitive game or matches have concluded the host college usually serves refreshments and both teams relax and get to know each other before heading for home. This kind of competition is practically unheard of in men's sporting circles.

During the college year, the WAA sponsors and takes part in several annual occasions on the campus. Decorating for the annual football banquet and trimming the school's Christmas tree are part and parcel to the WAA's activities. In the future the WAA hopes to double its membership and print a handbook, describing each year's activities.

In increasing its current membership the WAA looks forward to greater success and bigger achievements which will prove to be an even better asset to Santa Ana College in future years.

"The Necklace" Will Be Heard On Dons Review

Dramatization of Guy de Maupassant's famous short story "The Necklace" will be presented over the "Dons Review," SAC broadcast, Monday, March 13 at 7 p.m. over KVOE, announced Mrs. Mary Safley Reed, radio workshop instructor. The broadcast will be presented by students in her class.

Starting the broadcast, the cast will represent Miss Lota Blythe's creative writing class with Elizabeth Elliott and Al Fletcher discussing the different objectives of the class.

Students taking the leads in "The Necklace" are eLsley Condon and Phil Reilly. Playing in supporting roles are Russell Patterson and Paula Doretti, with the rest of the class playing minor parts. Earl Borden is director.

Serving as announcer for the bi-monthly broadcast will be Rex Heflin, and narrator is John Ford. In charge of sound effects is Francis Ferguson and Leroy Sparks is technician.

Students Will Cake and Candy Sale To Be Broadcast Over Sponsored By YWCA Women Laguna Station

Jack Ford and Rex Heflin, both members of the Santa Ana college student body, will broadcast weekly over KTED, Laguna Beach, it was announced by Jack Ford last week.

The SAC College Corner, as it will be called, will be a new addition to the Teen Timer disc jockey show. This program is heard every Friday afternoon from 3:30-5:00 p. m. The SAC portion of the show will be heard from 4:00-4:30 p. m. Station KTED is located at 1520 (just past KVOE) on your dial.

On this half hour program Ford and Heflinger will play popular songs heard on the campus as well as special requests of the students. From time to time recorded interviews of students on the campus will be aired on this program. Heflin and Ford urge students to contact them and make their requests.

Plans for a cake and candy sale proposed for March 29, were made at the YWCA bi-monthly meeting at the home of Alick Quick, SAC student, announced Mrs. Mary Safley Reed, YWCA advisor.

Proceeds from the sale will go into the buying and making of a dressing table skirt for the women's lounge in the Student Union. Money from the cake sale will also go into a joint project of all Associated Women Students at SAC, Fullerton junior college, and Orange Coast college. The project will go into buying eye glasses for the needy patients in the Orange County hospital.

Mrs. Reed reviewed Esther Warner's book "New Song In a Strange Land" at the meeting.

Appointed chairman for the cake sale was Nayan McNeill and Jean Neff will serve as chairman for the dressing table skirt. Peggy Ann Tozier presided over the meeting and will be service chairman on the AWS cabinet.

Next meeting which will be held on March 15 at 5:30 p. m. in the Student Union will be a joint meeting composed of the YMCA as well as the YWCA. A pot luck dinner will be held and after the dinner, advanced plans will be made for a joint float to be driven in the annual Fiesta parade.

Santa Ana Enters Orange Show Relays Tomorrow At San Berdoo

By DEAN GAUTSCHY

After sweeping over four opponents in practice meets, the Santa Ana College 1950 spikesters enter the annual Orange Show Relays tomorrow at San Bernardino.

Capturing second place in last year's relays, Coach John Ward's spikesters are out this year to break a few records in the meet. Already this season the Dons have equalled or surpassed the meet's records for the 440 and 880 relays.

Three Way Race

Competition will get underway at noon tomorrow in the Orange Show Stadium lasting throughout the rest of the day. From the early outlooks the meet promises to be a three way race between Santa Ana, Mt. San Antonio and Riverside Colleges. Mt. San Antonio won last year's relays by upsetting the Dons and setting three meet records by doing the impossible.

Coach Ward plans to enter Don Jamison, Wayne Hudson and Melton Lewis in the 100 yard dash. Brayton Norton and Bob Reid in the shot and discus events, Dick Carson, Lincoln, Norton and Kelly Hylton in the javelin toss, Dave Smith and Carson in pole vault competition, Bob Oddo and Reid in the high jump, and Jack Dooley and Norton are scheduled to compete for broad jump honors.

Strains Still Out

The Dons will have practically the same men compose the various relay teams that have been seeing action in the past two meets. The ex-marine sprinter, Floyd Strains, is still ailing from a leg injury and won't be able to enter any meets until April.

SAC Catcher Injured In Baseball Fracas

Eli Price, SAC first string catcher, was injured in the eighth inning of the Citrus game last Tuesday afternoon on the local field.

Sent immediately to the St. Joseph hospital, Price's injuries were confined to a bruised kidney. He was released from the hospital Wednesday after being kept under close observation. His injury, however, will probably keep him from his catching duty until the latter part of the season.

The accident happened in the top half of the eighth inning when Price was attempting to score.

Swimmers To Enter Dual Circuit Meets

A swimming team will be organized at Santa Ana College to participate in dual meets, it was announced by Coach Bill Cook today.

Only a few swimmers have signed up for the sport, but their interest is high enough to rate a team. Practice is slated for the local high school pool and all home meets will also be held there.

Coach Cook will not enter the team in actual Eastern Conference competition, but only in practice meets throughout their respective season.

Engen Sole Don To Gain Honors On All-Star Five

Rolf Engen, SAC Eastern Conference high point star, was the only Don able to gain a berth on the All-Circuit basketball team selected this week by the Conference Sports Writer's Association.

The Fullerton Hornets, circuit champs, placed three players on the All-Star first team. They include Bruce Bennett, forward, and Don Johnson and Dick Hammer guards. Ralph Polson, 6' 7" Riverside center, along with Engen rounded out the selection.

Johnson also was named most valuable player in the Orange Empire loop. In the voting all selections were unanimous except one. Hammer nosed out Marvin Copeland, of Chaffey, by one vote.

Golfers Open Conference Play March 24 Against OC Pirates

Eastern Conference competition for the Santa Ana College golf team is scheduled to get underway Friday, March 24 with a dual match against the Orange Coast Pirates.

Only two returning lettermen, Bob Huelskamp and Dave Daily, are members of this year's ten man team. Huelskamp recently made an outstanding showing in the annual Orange County Amateur Golf Tournament by staying in the competition until the final round.

Practicing at the Santa Ana Country club, the golfers, mentored by Coach Bill Cook, practice on the average of three times a week. Durand Djivre heads the list of new talent on the divot diggers by shooting in the seventies.

The Dons will probably meet the Pirates on their home course with the match scheduled to get underway at 2 p. m. Other capable golfers on the 1950 squad are Melvin Doss, Charles Griffin, Windell Melton, Walter Proksch, Harry Roux, William Steiner, and Ray Willsey.

Cure Rounds Out College Nine Horsehidors Defeat Citrus 6-2

Cutting the roster to eighteen players, the Santa Ana College horsehide nine defeated Citrus JC 6-2 last Tuesday afternoon on the local field.

Tartars Defeat Local Netters

Compton's swinging tennisters barely got past Santa Ana's Dons last Friday afternoon, March 3rd, as they took a scheduled tennis match 5-4.

The team did remarkably well against the Tartars in their first big meet. Buddy Johnson lost to Martin in straight sets 6-3, 7-5. Second ranking Bob Johnson lost a heart breaking match to Compton's Teach. The score in this match was 8-6 and 7-5. Stanley Miller, one of the two winning singles players who his match from Griffen in a hard fought 3 set match. When the match ended Miller's score was 6-0, 2-6, 7-5. Foester of Compton beat out Paul Cannno, seeded 4th on the Santa Ana ladder, 6-2, 6-3.

Dick Caldwell fell to defeat at the hands of another Compton Tartar, Paulson. This was another three setter. The score, 6-1, 7-9, 6-3. Don Barnett, the other singles winner took his match in three hard fought sets also, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2.

In the doubles play the story was different and this is where El Don scored most of his points. Buddy and Bob Johnson teamed up and took Compton's Griffen and Teach 7-5, 6-2. Cannon and Crowell won in two sets from Foester and Paulson 6-1, 6-3. Miller and Barnett won on the basis of a forfeit.

Dick Perez took the mound to open the contest for the Dons and Citrus only collected three hits off of him. Pete Fazio followed Perez in the fifth inning and Citrus was unable to score the rest of the afternoon. The Dons had to come from behind to win the game by scoring four runs in the eighth inning.

Three Costly Errors

As a result of three errors in the first inning Citrus was able to cross the plate on a three base steal. Their second and final tally came in the fifth inning. Strictly a pitchers battle, the longest ball hit during the afternoon was a line drive which resulted in only single.

Baseball Coach "Doc" Cure cut over 15 players from his roster, because a squad of 30 diamondmen is too large for all practical purposes.

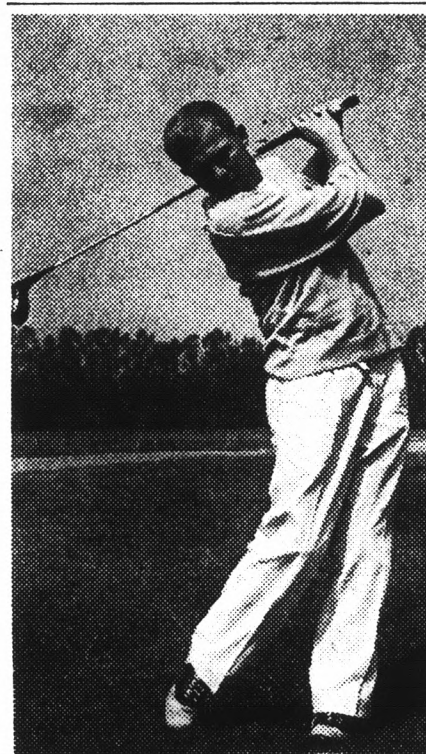

Leading Candidates

In back of the plate Pat Davis and Eli Price share the catching duties while Fazio and Perez alternate on the mound with Dick Couture backing them up. Jack Goetting assumes first base duties while Bob Schlak backs him up, Louie Armendariz, Cliff Horton and Whitley Hoover are second base candidates, Jerry Brancato heads the short stops followed by Bob Danskin, and Noel Wright is the sole candidate for third base.

Wardmen Win Second Meet

Sweeping all the relay events, Coach John Ward's SAC spikesters easily captured their second scheduled meet of the season last Friday afternoon on Clayton Field.

Meeting El Toro and Orange Coast College in a tri-tangle, the Dons recorded 85 points compared with the Marine's 46 and the Pirate's 43 digits. Coach Ward's Jackrabbits captured six first places in the relay events and three in field competition.

Brayton Norton, SAC versatile point maker, again this week proved his all around track ability by taking one first, two seconds and one third place in field events besides running on two winning relay teams. The Dons' relay teams were a little bit slower in comparison with the marks set in their initial meet, but according to Coach Ward there was a great overall improvement.

Relay results:

Distance Medley, Santa Ana—11:27.3 (Duncan, Anderson, Mendez and Thornton).

440 Relay—Santa Ana, 44.2 (Jamison, Hudson, Lincoln and Norton).

4 man 2 mile—Santa Ana, 8:32.9 (Wallace, DeLaRiva, Ekstrom, and Quackenbush).

880 Relay—Santa Ana 1:31.3 (Jamison, Hudson, Lincoln, and Norton).

Shuttle Relay—Santa Ana 1:03 (Dooley, Tibbitts, Cavanaugh and Carson).

One Mile 4 man—Santa Ana 3:33.3 (Duncan, Ekstrom, Quackenbush and Balsley).
